Chilliwack Chamber of Commerce

The Chamber of Commerce is a strong and credible voice for business, representing more than 500 members. Now in its 108th year, the Chamber is also one of the most active chambers in the Lower Mainland and Fraser Valley. Issues that affect the members are of primary concern to the Chamber. It is the members who are the driving force behind the city – their opinions are extremely important. As an advocate for these members, the Chamber lobbies municipal, provincial and federal governments. Because a united voice has far more impact than a single one, the Chamber is in a position to influence outcomes.
